LET'S STOP THE PLANET'S FEVER

The climate is changing, here and now. There's an increasingly growing amount of violent storms, landslides, floods, heatwaves, the spread of diseases which we were not accustomed to, the melting of the glaciers which is raising sea levels, desertification of larger and larger areas of the Earth.

The fever that we have caused on Earth must be stopped. This can only be done by reducing the pollution emitted into the atmosphere every day.

It's time to act. We can all do something, by revising our life styles. Governments, in their role as representatives protecting the interests of all citizens, must act.

The chance to act is NOW: in December, in Copenhagen, at the United Nations Summit where the heads of state of every country in the world will gather to seek an agreement on how to stop climate change.

I'M GOING TO MARCH FOR THE CLIMATE TOO AND I ASK THE ITALIAN GOVERNMENT TO

- be a prime mover of a strong political mission in Copenhagen that leads to a fair and binding worldwide agreement for the reduction of greenhouse gases: global emissions must be cut by at least 80% by 2050 so that global warming remains below 2°C
- make every effort to reduce Italian emissions of gases that damage the earth's climate and poison the air we breathe: the emissions of developed countries should be reduced by 40% by 2020
- eliminate the waste of energy that is necessary for lighting, heating and cooling our homes; improve the energy efficiency of industry and transport; make full use of the ways in which agriculture can help to reduce emissions
- make room for renewable energy sources, which are safe and do not pollute and which are also an opportunity for developing our production system and creating decent employment for many young Italians
- make every effort to introduce the goal of stopping deforestation and the emissions it causes globally by 2020 and by 2015 in critical areas.
